I know you're hunting for me now
I know my light is on your screen
You think I'm under your control
My mind a product of your schemes

And when your metal seeker shines
I will avoid its hungry beam
And make a silent slow escape
Away into the night

And all will be forgotten now
All will fade away
All will change into a dream
That no one ever dreamed

I know you're hunting for me now
I know my coat is in your sights
Your hand upon the switch of fate
Taking the energy of life

No one will know
Always alone
No one will know
Always alone

And all will be forgotten now
All will fade away
All will change into a dream
That no one ever dreamed

All will be forgotten now
All will fade away
All will change into a dream
That no one ever dreamed

Dreamed, dreamed, dreamed
Dreamed
