(Verse)

Hopefully tomorrow will be Better then today.
I'll kiss you one last time
As the rain is washed away.

Holding onto me
The day is not the same.
Cause only the little things
Seem to give you away.

(Chorus)

Too many feelings to be said.
Too many letters to be read.
Words can't describe the way I see,
Through my eyes, forever you and me.

I would hold you forever if i could.
Only asking you now if i should.
Sitting with you in the rain,
Thinking some day won't be our day.

(Verse)

There's never a right time
To look into your eyes and say goodbye.
Hold your breath until I'm gone
As i finish writing this song tonight.

The bottles breaking open
Your are cold as ice (cold as ice)
Don't fall unless you know I'll catch you
Even though I know you'll try.

(Chorus)

Too many feelings to be said.
Too many letters to be read.
Words can't describe the way I see,

Through my eyes, forever you and me.

I would hold you forever if i could.
Only asking you now if i should.
Sitting with you in the rain,
Thinking some day won't be our day.

(Not today)
My heart will fall into the grave, I'll end up in heaven
because your saved.
(Our hearts will break)
Someday will be our day, Someday will be our day.

Too many feelings to be said.
Too many letters to be read.
Words can't describe the way I see,
Through my eyes, forever you and me.

I would hold you forever if i could.
Only asking you now if i should.
Sitting with you in the rain,
Thinking some day won't be our day.

Too many feelings to be said.
Too many letters to be read.
Words can't describe the way I see,
Through my eyes, forever you and me.

I would hold you forever if i could.
Only asking you now if i should.
Sitting with you in the rain,
Thinking some day won't be our day.
