I should be lost without you now
But it's easy on my own
So don't be waiting at your door
For me to come around
I've seen the sights, I've heard the sounds
I knew them as a child
I'm trusting what I knew then now

I'm looking for something
That's being buried underground for years
And it's so old that even I don't know
If I would recognize it anymore
On my own

I should be calling out your name
But I've been that ball and chain
I've set my sights on something new
I can see it closer now
I'm breaking up, I'm wandering far
Take me away from you
There's so much that I got to do

I'm looking for something
That's being buried underground for years
And it's so old that even I don't know
If I would recognize it anymore
On my own
On my own

I'm looking for something
That's being buried underground for years
And it's so old that even I don't know
If I would recognize it anymore

I'm searching, I'm waiting
I need time to find out
On my own

On my own
On my own
