Two round little stones on the roof with us
We throw 'em off, perfectly in love
To the old ground below
And I say it's so, cause I say it's so
And oh, then we loosen up
We loosen up with the setting sun
Aglow in our heart of hearts
Which shall beat for us - they club and club
You know what I'm thinking of
And I thought a lot, about the thoughts I've got
The old wind blows

And we will know what it is
And we will know what it is

I no longer look in the branches of a dozen fallen logs
For an answer, love
To my old aching heart and my aching thoughts of a lover gone
And oh, then we loosen up and start saying stuff
We are saying stuff Alone, in our common thoughts, of "I want, I want, but I don't know what"
And won't till my soul dissolves
When my soul dissolves, like a setting sun
Or a falling star

And we will know what it is
And we will know what it is

I want, I want, but I don't know what Oh (And we will know what it is) [repeated]

(And we will know what it is) [x5]
