Sweet, sweeter than them all
Got to be careful if you wanna fall
Or you'll end up wounded

Love seems seems to be her game
Got to be careful if you wanna play
Or you might stumble

Sweet to me lately, calling me baby
But I'm still concidering maybe

She spilled it out one day
Begged on her knees to make me stay
Well I'm thinking maybe

Time seems to be your friend
But it's time that I wanna bend
It's on my back now

This is more than I can take
Looks so real but it feels so fake
She's hard to handle

Sweet to me lately, calling me baby
Well I'm still concidering maybe

She just spilled it out one day
Begged on her knees to make me stay
And I'm thinking maybe

She said:
"Love is here if you want it
And I know that sounds like a warning
Love is here, come and get it
And I know that sounds like a bad thing
Yes I know that sounds like a bad thing"

Unbreakable at first
It was unthinkable to burst
What did I know then
You were present all the time

Turn to me and I'll leave the ground
But the light of you can easily make blind

Sweet to me lately, calling me baby
Well I'm still considering maybe

She just spilled it out one day
Begged on her knees to make me stay
And I'm thinking maybe

She said:
"Love is here if you want it
And I know that sounds like a warning
Love is here, come and get it
And I know that sounds like a bad thing
Yes I know that sounds like a bad thing"

Sweet to me lately, calling me baby
But I'm still considering maybe

She spilled it out one day
Begged on her knees to make me stay
And I'm thinking maybe
