"Never the same"

We haven't got time to understand what we are here for I have no demand to judge your role Do you want to read the stars or live for the moment?
comprehend what's not so important?
You're thinking again
- what isn't the same?
Keep in mind the ways of life
I Will never be the same
I'm changing every day
Just waiting for the time
our paths will meet again
We have to decide where we're going to I've made up my mind now it's up to you Do you want to flee for shelter
or live for the moment?
analyse to every content
You're thinking again

- what isn't the same?

Keep in mind the ways of life

I Will never be the same

I'm changing every day

Just waiting for the time

our paths will meet again

What would you think of trying again in a different way, not playing the game?

If we end up here once more,

at least we tried

I Will never be the same

I'm changing every day

our paths will meet again
