Oh, I could never have
What I need without you
Oh, I could never know
Who I really am without you

I need something that won't let me down
I know you are always there to break my fall

Oh, I could never have
What I need without you
Oh, I could never know
Who I really am without you

You're not that far from me, you're everywhere
You exist, oh

Oh, I could never have
What I need without you
Oh, I could never know
Who I really am without you

Take my heart
I'll lose myself
I'd lose it all for you

Oh, oh, oh, oh

Oh, I could never know
Who I really am without you
Oh, I could never have
What I need without you

Oh, I could never know
Who I really am without you
Without you
