You're everywhere I see
From molecules to trees
And when you're far from me
The earth falls to it's knees

Everything falls apart
When you're not here
Everything falls apart
I need to say I need you

You're in the air I breathe
You're moving energy
And like the river needs the sea
I need to be released

Everything falls apart
When your're not here
Everything falls apart
I need to say I need you
Falls apart
When you're not here
Everything falls apart
I need to say I need you

I need to say I need you
I need to say I need you

Everything falls apart
When you're not here
Everything falls apart
I need to say I need you
