If i cannot bring you comfort, then at least i bring you home for nothing is more precious than the time we haven't sold

We all must learn from small misfortunes count the blessings that are real Let the bells ring out for Christmas
at the closing of the year

Let the bells ring out for Christmas
at the closing of the year

If i cannot bring you comfort,

at the closing of the year
at the closing of the year (instrumental)

(The following is added in the reprise, although i do not have it complete here)

Now all the winter bells are ringing hear them echo through the snow and the children's voices singing on the streets so far below

This is a time to be together and the truth is somewhere here within our love for people
at the closing of the year
