

Separation "Tonight"

Visit "Tonight" on MotoLyrics.com it starts with one discreet desire to hold you close when everything stops making sense so we jumpstart the process move faster, we're losing faith i never meant to push you away tonight, i'll be searching for you finding my way back to all the promises that we made when it comes theres no reaction that could change my mind cause ive been waiting for so long to restart the cycle and revive a memory give me just one chance thats all i'll need

times when i was lost and low i looked to you to pull me through now i need tell you that you were the best i ever had we have come so far but our lives may never change
