(Breathe in the sun)

(Breathe in the sun)

[Akrobatik]

Damn, what does my calendar date say

I can see my breathe outside and it's late May

This is not allusive to a great day

Man I wanna (breathe in the sun...)

Yeah, I just wanna sleep the night away

Wake up, and go outside to see a brighter day

Not where I can get around to it, but right away

I always said I'd leave the city I love

And wherever I was meant to be I'm always thinking of

Been in the same city my whole life

And still no wife, it's time for Ak to get his groove back

And maybe if I bounce, it'll just prove that

This is where I've always needed to be

And then I'll move back

Word, and now it's time for me to expand

And it ain't about the music cause I got my own fans

Yeah, I toured the world and it was part of my plan

But now I need a couple months to chill out in the hot sand

Watch my lady hit that dope perplexion of honey brown

Drop the top, hit the water and run around

Maybe I can clear my head in the sun rays

And live how Roy Aidens used to talk about one day

Tired of being surrounded by the drugs and the gunplay

I'll promise I'll be back, but for now big Ak got to (breathe in the sun)

Before your sanity's gone

Instead of stressing over something from night to mourn

Sometimes the only thing you got to do is move on

And (breathe in the sun)

Yeah, before your sanity's gone

Instead of stressing over something from night to
mourn

Sometimes the only thing you got to do is move on

[Mr. Lif]

When we met in the beggining I would've never have thought

That we would've never been caught in such an intricate plot

You possessed all the things I have sought

Intelligent ways, a beautiful face, benevolent heart

Who's to blame when people choose goals that oppose

With their kindred souls, so they can't find time to grow

I know you holding me into a better man

Help me find a point in life to help me strengthen my plans

And I tried all these things I never knew

My abilities grew because I loved you

Over clouds I flew

But I landed in my own sorrow

Brought you tears today

I must say, I'll see you crying tomorrow

And I can conjure over a million selfish reasons to state

But I know we'll never grow that way

So I'm letting you go

Although I truely don't believe that we're done

In my heart I've always felt that you were number 1

Now you can (breathe in the sun)

You've been my love, my joy, my guided light

But I'm not the type, to stick around if I ain't treating you right

So you should (breathe in the sun)

So I think we should leave before we tarnish what we have together

Our bond is hard to sever

I'll hold you in my heart forever while you (breathe in the sun)
