As long as I have her
Inside, inside of my life
Now I 'spose that she knows
That the world revolves around her
I could never forget that face
That Lower East Side bar, that special place
Now I'm just sittin' here achin' for your touch
Well, is it possible to miss somebody this much?
My girl, she knows, yeah
She knows how to ride her bike
And I think, never blink
And I never ever wonder why
She's all mine, it just is
And now I got all on about my biz
And I 'spose that she knows
That the world revolves around her
The world revolves around her
The world revolves around
The world revolves around her
My girl, the world, it revolves around you
