Why can't I grasp this thing called loving is there any reason to learn the situation turns to shit whatever I choose to do

forced down on my knees

forced down on my knees by my severed conscience what will turn my world back from upside down let it out, let it out, let it out, I know I've gotta let it out, let it out, let it out, let it out placed in the eye of the storm, all alone the chaos reflects my inside turning my back on sweet revenge I didn't need that lesson at all

forced down on my knees

let it out, let it out, let it out, let it out of me

Things are not always as they seem to be It's destroying me, what they say to me doesn't mean a thing when I step aside, stray aside my inner self eats itself

forced down on my knees

let it out, let it out, let it out, let it out of me
