My head is a convenience store
Full of dreams and all the sweet things I adore
But once I'm in, so hard to find
My way back out again
My body is shaking to the core
When I feel I can't take in any more
I close my eyes, I hear her say
We all are dancing anyway
We all are dancing anyway
We all are dancing anyway
My heart is a bursting mushroom bomb
Let it burn and everything will come undone
And melts away
When she finds me everything will be OK
We all are dancing anyway
We all are dancing anyway
We all are dancing
I'm starting to believe
Starting to remember
Starting to remember
Starting to remember
Surrender...
We all are dancing anyway
We all are dancing anyway
We all are dancing anyway
You might as well be
We all are
You might as well set yourself free
We all are dancing anyway
Might as well be
We all are dancing anyway
We all are dancing
