Remember the time we threw the leaves out of the sky
Remember we laughed so hard that we started to cry
Remember the roses, friendship fills my heart.
Remember our dream to fly; well you cant learn if you dont start.

Remember, all the moments that we shared Remember, when I am with you Im not scared

Remember the time we talked about our future families
The girl that I spoke of was you now cant you see The deep thoughts we shared of our secrets and our lives
The inside jokes the times that I looked straight into your eyes

Remember you have helped me all along Remember dont forget me when Im gone

Chorus:
What can I say to you to make you realize
All of those memories are stepping stones to brighter
skies
And when I think of you tears come to my eyes
I see what nobody sees Take some time right now and think about our memories.

I am not ready for your love so please dont send it I am not worthy for your friendship but I never want to end it
If someday comes and we werent meant to be together
I will remember please remember oh remember
You have changed my life forever

I have watched you, I have learned from you over the years.
Ive listened Ive waited. Waiting is my fear.
Ive waited long enough and now its time for me to try.
Press stop do something I dont want to say goodbye.

Ill always be beneath the same full moon
Remember, all the roses grow for you.

And I do too.

What can I say to you to make you realize
All of those memories are stepping stones to brighter
skies
And when I think of you tears come to my eyes
I see what nobody sees. I see what nobody sees.
So take some time right now. Take some time and think about our memories
