"Kissing A Memory"

"What happened to late nights
And sneaking in your window to sleep by your side Hugging and kissing when no one was looking
I lived for that smile...it's gone
When all that i kiss is a memory
When all I hold is my dreams
How can I wake this love you killed
How can I make it better
How can I make it without all of the little pieces that you ripped out of me
When will you claim your prize kissing your face as you kissed a place that was yours
I gave you everything, you took it all
What happened to the innocence of us
What happened to me and you I'll never give my heart away that way that i gave it to you"
