And I woke up this morning
To breathing not my own
And I woke up this morning
Knowing that I'm not alone
And I cried just a little
Cause I knew that we'd been dumb
And I cried just a little
Cause I knew that we were done

Please don't want me, she said
Cause I really don't want you, you know
And please don't love me, she said
Cause I really don't love you, you know

And I woke up this morning
Gentle breathing on my arm
And you pulled me so much closer
But I pushed her away
And I ran to the bathroom
Cause I had to the bathroom
And I ran to the bathroom
Not knowing what to say

Please don't want me, I said
Cause I really don't want you, you know
And please don't love me, I said
Cause I really don't love you, you know

I know that you know this happens everyday (ba da da ba ba) X2

Don't make it easier to do do (do do do do) X3

And I woke up this morning
Gentle breathing on your arm
And I pulled you so much closer
I was feeling safe and warm
And lay here for hours
Cause I knew that it's ok
And lay here for hours

Knowing exactly what to say

Please just want me, I said
Cause I really just want you, you know
And please just love me, I said
Cause I really just love you, you know

Please just want me, she said
Cause I really just want you, you know
And please just love me, she said
Cause I really just love you, you know
