And I held onto what you gave
And soaked up every smile to fall asleep
With your memory and pictures of a child

And what if I threw it all away?
And what if I threw myself to you?
Would it be the same?

I promise I'll dream about you
I close my eyes to stop myself from falling
I stopped myself from you
I stopped myself from all the pain that you've put me through
I stopped myself from falling
I stopped myself from you
I stopped myself from falling

I promise x4

I stopped myself from falling
I stopped myself from you
I stopped myself from all the pain that you've put me
through
I stopped myself from falling
I stopped myself from you
I stopped myself from falling

I promise x4

And I held onto what you gave
And soaked up every smile to fall asleep
With your memory and pictures of a child

And what if I threw it all away?
And what if I threw myself to you?
Would it be the same?

And I held onto what you gave
And soaked up every smile to fall asleep
With your memory and pictures of a child

And what if I threw it all away?
And what if I threw myself to you?
Would it be the same?
