My life began in the moment when you proved your glory
I hit my knees for the first time in the season of my mourning
I've been set free, and now I see
This is the start of a new beginning
This dark season has begun to fade
Start living like I'm a new creation
Burn inside me, and I'll go your way
Another day, I pray that you reveal more of my story
Take my life
Make it something more for you the one and only savior,
Redeemer, my truth
I've been set free, and now I see that,
This is the transformation, the ending of the season
I'll go your way
I'll sing a proclamation
This is my burden's calling
Set your truth free
On my knees, I am free
