

Shantalla

"I Spy"

Visit "I Spy" on MotoLyrics.com

I am wise beyond my years, I will not give it to fears Speculation and idle chatter Ain't no skin, it doesn't even really have to matter

I spy with my own eyes something that can make me
cry if I let myself
I hear with my own ears something that can bring a tear
to someone else

You can try to hurt my pride, get to see my weaker side
No temptation, no sedative Instead I'm staying absolutely straight up positive

I spy with my own eyes something that can make me
cry if I let myself
I hear with my own ears something that can bring a tear
to someone else
I know in my soul, no one else can make me whole, that's how I live
I feel love so real, it could melt a heart of steel, that's what I give

I spy with my own eyes something that can make me
cry if I let myself
I hear with my own ears something that can bring a tear
to someone else
I know in my soul, no one else can make me whole,
that's how I live
I feel love so real, it could melt a heart of steel, that's what I give.

Visit Shantalla page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.