he always did whats right with all the words he never said it cant be long just hold on tight and spare the words to speak chased by his thoughts shaped by his fears to pass the time of days not kept and find the truth inside can you see that hes just like you?

with dirty feet and hands
can you see that he looks like you? just try and understand slow down or lose track of time speed up our youll fall behind and nothing seems to change cuz we all think the same

can you see that hes just like you?
can you see that he looks like you?

hes just like me
hes just like you
