would you like to take a ride with me?
my car has got five speeds one for every mood today finds you in forget your yesterdays and just hop in these roads can all just sing our hearts to sleep and the sky can just put our minds at ease its just what we need

and its just what we need to get along well drive today right until tomorrows gone cuz its right where we belong would you like to take a trip with me? through all of the lights of the bright city? we could let the wind blow all of our worries away and maybe we could find some little place to stay

well drive today right until tomorrows gone

well drive so far away from all the trappings of your daily life forget the things that give you strife believe theres greater things to be where truth and love will set us free

well drive today right until tomorrows gone
