I can feel that everyone knows
That everybody is looking at me
How can you lie and how can you deny
That everyone is staring at me
How can you talk and how can you laugh
When everybody looks as I fall down
I don't understand what you see
When it feels like a giant tragedy
How can you mock and how can you taunt
At someone else's failing mistakes
How can you talk and how can you laugh
When everyone watches as I fall down

How can you lie and how can you deny
That everyone is staring at me
How can you talk and how can you laugh
When everybody looks as I fall down

How can you mock and how can you taunt
At someone else's failing mistakes
How can you talk and how can you laugh
When everyone watches as I fall down

I can feel that everyone knows
That everyone is staring at me
How can you lie and how can you deny
That everybody is staring at me

I don't understand what you see
When it feels like a giant tragedy
How can you talk and how can you laugh
When everybody looks as I fall down

How can you mock and how can you taunt
At someone else's failing mistakes
How can you talk and how can you laugh
When everyone watches as I fall down

How can you lie and how can you deny
When everybody looks as I fall down
How can you mock and how can you taunt

When everyone watches as I fall down

How can you mock and how can you taunt
At someone else's failing mistakes
How can you talk and how can you laugh
When everyone watches as I fall down
