I saw my life flash before my eyes,
Cursed my veins and told me everything dies
I shot the wall but it didn't stay,
Bounced off quickly and headed my way
Through it all, my body gets colder,
Veins burst blood and my body gets bolder
Turned my life around quicker than it was created,
Bullet in my back, the scars never faded

The life of myself is on a vote,
Curses more than a sailor's boat
The fate of my life is everything diseased,
Nothing I ever do remains pleased
A thundering ache jolts through my brain,
Soon my life will drive all of me insane
With a knife in my back, I walk alone,
My soul, lifeless alone, lives on its own

Now that I've wandered,
Wandered to nowhere,
I walk alone with a dying soul
I've seen my life fade,
Fade to almost nothing,
My life slowly wanders into decay
I walk the line between life and death,
The only thing I am finding,
Are decades of death

Each life dies to a silent unknown,
Forsaken fate, another life blown
Constant reminders of a life undone,
Killing the souls of the life for scum
To a past that I can't undo,
The life I live settles forever new
Battling beyond belief of what I seek,
War one is here and I hear the gas leak

Now that I've wandered,
Wandered to nowhere,
I walk alone with a dying soul
I've seen my life fade,

Fade to almost nothing,
My life slowly wanders into decay
I walk the line between life and death,
The only thing I am finding,
Are decades of death

Death has a shadow and lives to defeat,
Forever life remains wandering incomplete
Surroundings of death lurks behind me,
Fate is in front and I can clearly see
I walk through decades of death only to die,
Wherever I go, death is a walk-by
Shadows remain as scars are dark and deep,
Lifeless souls to remain, I weep

Now that I've wandered,
Wandered to nowhere,
I walk alone with a dying soul
I've seen my life fade,
Fade to almost nothing,
My life slowly wanders into decay
I walk the line between life and death,
The only thing I am finding,
Are decades of death

I walk for decades,
Through these decades of death
I walk for decades,
Through these decades I find decay
Death is decaying,
And so am I

Now that I've wandered,
Wandered to nowhere,
I walk alone with a dying soul
I've seen my life fade,
Fade to almost nothing,
My life slowly wanders into decay
I walk the line between life and death,
The only thing I am finding,
Are decades of death

Now that I've wandered,
Wandered to nowhere,
I walk alone with a dying soul
I've seen my life fade,
Fade to almost nothing,
My life slowly wanders into decay
I walk the line between life and death,
The only thing I am finding,
Are decades of death
