All day long I've been feeling so down
There's nothing in this world that can reverse this frown
What in the world is wrong with me?
I've got to find the clues to solve this mystery

Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change

I've got to clear my head of all this junk
Put it in park and clear out the trunk
Day by day, I've been losing my luck
Every thing now is starting to suck

Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change

I'm trying to stop but my problems won't go
What can I do to stop feeling this low?
People won't help because they are afraid
Slower and slower, my life begins to fade

Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change

Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change

Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change
Nothing will change
