I feel so lost without you
It feels like my life is missing
Everything seems so hollow
I'm drowning in a sea of emptiness
I can't swim my way back to the top
Come to me so I can find my way back up

I can't get out of the sea
I need it to be you and me
I can't find my way back
I found out, it's you I lack
I need to get out
I need to get back

My heart feels beatless
It feels like no blood is pumping through
My body feels like it has no pulse
My bones seem so sore
All the aches just won't go away
Come to me so all my aches will go away

I can't get out of the sea
I need it to be you and me
I can't find my way back
I found out, it's you I lack
I need to get out
I need to get back

It feels like there is no air
Feels like I can't breathe
I'm trying to gasp for air
My throat seems so dry
When I drink, it still seems so dry
Come to me so I can breath again

I can't get out of the sea
I need it to be you and me
I can't find my way back
I found out, it's you I lack
I need to get out
I need to get back

My mind feels so blank
It feels like I can't think at all
I need my mind so I can live
My thoughts are so lonely
When I try to think happy, they're still lonely
Come to me so I can think again

I can't get out of the sea
I need it to be you and me
I can't find my way back
I found out, it's you I lack
I need to get out

I need you here so I can be whole again
I need you here so I can stop drowning
I need you here so I can breath again
I need you here so I can think straight

I can't get out of the sea
I need it to be you and me
I found out, it's you I lack
I need to get out
