

You Me At Six "Safer To Hate Her"

Visit "Safer To Hate Her" on MotoLyrics.com too much, much is never enough i had you and i gave you up no idea where my mind was for months i woke up, i cashed in on all of my luck i walked hand and hand with your trust and everybody was kissing on fire and we all got burnt

it'd be safer, to hate her
than to love her and to lose her it'd be safer to hate her, all around caught you having a laugh did you catch me have the last?

i've been smiling like this for days just to make up for my mistakes in the dark, i watch everyone disappear and i am beginning to let myself down and now i'm pushing everyone that was in.. out

it'd be safer, to hate her
than to love her and to lose her
it'd be safer to hate her, all around

and nobody knows what it's like live and die on the inside nobody knows what it's like to be one of a kind

when we die, do we feel alive?
when we die, do we feel alive?

it'd be safer, to hate her
than to love her and to lose her
it'd be safer to hate her, all around
and nobody knows what it's like
live and die on the inside and nobody knows..

Visit You Me At Six page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

