Save your breath
And I'll talk instead
And you'll just drop dead
And stay away from me

You've got me wrapped
Around your fingers
But I've got you figured out
I'm down but not out

She said, love is, love is for the blind
And you gave me yours
Without your eyes, so why?
You're more shy

I hate to say I told you so
You're never gonna let this go
With every little look she gave
And every move she made
She's got you on the tip of your toes

Catch your breath
I know you're upset
But I am resilient to it
This test

I got you down
Into a silence
And I've got evidence
That you're down and you're out

She said, love is, love is for the blind
And you gave me yours
Without your eyes, so why?
You're more shy

I hate to say I told you so
Your never gonna let this go
With every little look she gave
And every move she made
She's got you on the tip of your toes

You know, this is how it goes
Nothing lasts forever
That you should know
And how it shows you on the roads
You feel so low
Just know, I am with you

I told you so
I'm never gonna let this go
With every little look I'll give
And every move I make

I hate to say I told you so
You're never gonna let this go
With every little look she gives
She's got you on the tip of your toes
On the tip of your toes
