Follow you in the shadow of your stride
I'd wait an hour just to see you smile
Should I chance all the pain
To reveal all I've contained
Would you feel the way I do
But if I was on fire would you notice
And would you feel desire if I showed it
Would you notice
I could wait for perfect words or circumstances
I listened in just to hear your name
All your loveliness that shines
Is the same as what's inside
Would you feel the same way too
But if I was on fire would you notice

And would you feel desire if I showed it
Someday soon
When it's me and you
I won't be the stranger in your life
But if I was on fire would you notice
And would you feel the desire if I showed it
But if I was on fire
If I was on fire
If I burn in desire
Would you notice
