Oh Marty Macentire I love you so much
Oh Marty Macentire I love to feel your touch Oh Marty Macentire why did you leave, on that night....new years eve
I had nothing to do except to feel grieve
On that lonely night, new years eve

Well my life went on, what about yours?
You didn't fall of your bike, you cant clean up your sores
One day they will scar but that day is quite far
How is your mind making up?
My mind is fine, and fine your mind is
But how is your mind making up?

Now the days are quite over
And my life has gone by
While I sit in this chair, eating my apple pie
I take one more moment, before I die
And give a big kiss way up to the sky
