You and me were free
Doing things together,
There was nothing I could see
Wasn't black or white,
But now shades of grey are creeping me
I see it when I sleep, alone

Laughing all along
We're having quite a time,
That they we're playing our favorite song
Boogie on, reggae woman,
Never lasted for so long
Where did I go wrong

Please don't lead me on
I just can't take a broken heart
Please don't lead me on
I just can't take another broken heart

Last night I was off the rails
Ten sheets to the wind
I drank myself, it never fails
Wouldn't see you again
I guess I'll put myself to bed
Rest my weary head, for the night

Played for a woman's heart
She left me pretty quick
She said I couldn't play the part
She said I'd never stick
I was accosted by a barber
He said, son I'll shave your beard

Please don't lead me on
I just can't take a broken heart
Please don't lead me on
I just can't take a broken heart
