"Wait For Sleep"

Standing by the window eyes upon the moon
Hoping that the memory will leave her spirit soon
She shuts the door and lights
And lays her body on the bed
Where images and words are running deep
She has too much pride to pull the sheets above her head
So quietly she lays and wait for sleep
She stares at the ceiling
And tries not to think
And pictures the chain
She's been trying to link again
But the feeling is gone
And water can't cover her memory
And ashes can't answer her pain
God give me the power to take breath from a breeze
And call life from a cold metal frame
In with the ashes
Or up with the smoke from the fire

With wings up in heaven

Or here laying in bed

Palm of her hand to my head

Now and forever curled in my heart

And the heart of the world
