change your sox change the color of walls change your teeth change your sheets swim backwards ,walk backwards ,drive back down that street grow older, can't grow younger, can't repeat so look forwards, move ahead, go to sleep chorus one thing that we can't stop is time can't stop the rain but it always stops sometime changing things changing everything always, not just the hands on a face I may not know the way but I know there's time consume and replace , disappear with no trace , wear out or wear in, ask questions , find answers, without and within blink your eyes, open them wide,days pass you by so wake up, change your mind, go to sleep-
