Tell me what you want and I'll do it for you
If the sky is grey I'm gonna paint it blue
If it starts to rain I'm gonna make it shine
I'll do what I gotta do just to make you mine
Cause everytime you leave you know I want you back
Your love is hitten me like a heart attack
Your the only one I want here by my side
You know I couldn't even hide it if I tried "so
Some and let me know baby tell me today
That you'll be here for always for ever and a day
You know this ain't a test I just want you to stay Because you're taking my heart, you're taking my heart
away

All I wanna tell you is the way I feel
All I wanna say baby this is real I say that

Chorus:
You take my heart away, you take my heart

Not to long ago I was all alone
I was busy doing nothing on my microphone
When my friends came and took me to a movie show
And that's when it happened how was I to know
That you would be there love was in the air
I tried to turn away but I could feel it everywhere
Was a kind of feeling that I'd never had before
And now that I've found it you know I'm wanting more Of the kissing and the hugging the squeezing and the loving
The walking in the park it really is something
To be with you day after day
My love is getting stronger and it's here to stay

Don't you know what I'm saying is the way that I feel Come on now this could be for real I say that

My love is getting stronger and I'm willing to pay

So listen to me baby I've got something to say
Cause I'll be true to you and I will not go astray
Because you're taking my heart, you're taking my heart

All I wanna tell you is the way I feel
All I wanna say baby this is real I say that
