One foot out the door
My mind's on the highway
I think I'm driving too fast
Kid, I'm driving too fast

I'm running from ghosts
Your memories will haunt me
I think you're getting too close
I'm scared I'm going to, I'm going to

Don't ask me where I'm going
Or when I'm coming home
Just make it a habit of locking all the doors
You drive me crazy with those questions
Don't you think I got one of my own?
Shouldn't life be so much more?
Life should be so much more

One foot in the grave
You're trying to save me
But I'm driving too fast
Kid, I'm driving too fast

Waging war on the world
You call it shadowboxing
I think you're getting too close
I'm scared I'm going to, I'm going to

Don't ask me where I'm going
Or when I'm coming home
Just make it a habit of locking all the doors
You drive me crazy with those questions
Don't you think I got one of my own?
Shouldn't life be so much more?
Life should be so much more

There's bars on the windows
And cops on the phone
I'm telling them I'm just making good for the chances
I've blown
You're not reading my signals

I'm made for the road
If I even stay another minute my heart will explode

Don't ask me where I'm going
Or when I'm coming home
Just make it a habit of locking all the doors
You drive me crazy with those questions
Don't you think I got one of my own?
Shouldn't life be so much more?
Life should be so much more

Shouldn't life be so much more?
Life should be so much more
