I am here, on a Sunday morning
The day that you said you were walkin' away
Dyin' here, but I don't want to wake you
As long as you're sleeping, you're here

So I'm wishing you well, though it hurts, can you tell?
I wont try to stand in your way
This world keeps turning, the sun will shine on
But I don't think I'll love anymore

Lying here, so cold this morning
Pretend that I'm sleeping, afraid that you'll see
That I'm dyin' here, I don't want to hurt you
If only you'd ask me to stay

So I'm wishing you well, though it hurts, can you tell?
I wont try to stand in your way
This world keeps turning, the sun will shine on
But I don't think I'll love anymore

We don't say a word, a moment passes
By end of the day, you've gone on your way
And I'll ask myself, have I missed all life's chances
For now, all I can say is that

I'm wishing you well, though it hurts, can you tell?
I wont try to stand in your way
This world keeps turning, the sun will shine on
But I don't think I'll love anymore
No, I don't think I'll love anymore
