There goes the boy from Santa Fe
Who lost his mamma in the second grade
Played Romeo in his high school play
He's never been in an airplane
The goes the boy who goes to town
To people watch and just hang out
He likes to sing in the car out loud
With the windows rolled down
And I'd give anything
To hold him again
'Cause it still breaks my heart each time when
He walks by my window
Oh, no
There goes the boy who made me smile
Danced with me down a grocery aisle
I taught him how to dress in style
His kisses always drove me wild
There goes the boy
(there goes to boy there goes the boy)
And I'd give anything
To hold him again

'Cause it still breaks my heart

Each time when

He walks by my window

Oh, no

There goes the girl walkin' by his side

He's holdin' her hand

Just like he used to hold mine

There goes the boy, there goes the boy

There goes the boy

(there goes the boy, there goes the boy)

There goes the boy, there goes the boy

There goes the boy

(there goes the boy, there goes the boy)

There goes the boy, there goes the boy

There goes the boy
