

Young Guns "Elements"

Visit "Elements" on MotoLyrics.com

It's twenty below,
But I don't feel the cold any more,
Though the elements conspire
To drain me of desire, I move on.

I have spent so long searching,
Didn't know what I was looking for.

I don't know where I've been,
Much less to where I'm headed.
Led by the impulse,
That's embedded in my flesh.

I have spent so long searching,
Didn't know what I was looking for,
So in love with the horizon that I,
Didn't see night fall.

With every ragged breath,
I feel a little more at peace inside.
Though the weather rages,
No, I'll never hide,
It's only in the journey that we're really alive.

I have spent so long searching,
Didn't know what I was looking for,
So in love with the horizon that I,
Didn't see night fall.

Though the weather rages,
No, I'll never hide,
It's only in the journey that we're really alive.

Visit Young Guns page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.