

Silence, The "Dead Ashes Consentine"

Visit "Dead Ashes Consentine" on MotoLyrics.com

One day, I dreamed we died alone together, under the stars, December days
Can I please sit and shine inside your light?
Will your love find me?

Climbed upon the hill as you turned to sand
Your dead ashes cosentine comforts me
I buried you in mud
So I can breathe your ashes misery
You're at peace
You say you want to live forever
Then take my hand and follow me Someday, we will be together inside the void of clemency
So here I go again, feel the love, feel the pain, feel the things I used to say So now I count the days, please feel the love, feel the pain, feel these things I used to say Today, I dreamed we died together
Under the stars
December days
Can I sit and shine inside your light?
Will your love find me?
So hear I go again, feel the love, feel the pain, feel these things I used to say,
So now I count the days, feel the love, feel the pain, feel these things I used to say...
Fell in love with god on that winters day
Time ashes flew away yesterday
I married you in blood that overcame the dead ashes misery
I am at peace
Sometimes it feels like (feels like)
Sometimes its so cold, I should have never let you go Sometimes it feels like, feels like (feels like)
I will see you again
