The morning comes, the waves wash over you
You've got the sun in your eyes
And the notion waiting for you to cross
The first step takes the most faith
Walking on the water you can't help
But feel like you've been saved

When we begin
Our hope is all we have to carry us
You feel the weight up against you
Now you're pushing it

I've never been so close
I've never felt so unafraid
I've never been so close
I've never felt so unafraid

When you're alone surrounded by horizon
Time stretches out for a newborn sun to shine on and on
And in the end you will return to me
Following the path of the spirits that have surrounded you

When we begin
Our hope is all we have to carry us
You feel the weight up against you
Now you're pushing it

I've never been so close
I've never felt so unafraid
I've never been so close
I've never felt so unafraid

I've never been so close
I've never felt so unafraid
I've never been so close
I've never felt so, felt so, felt so unafraid

When you're alone surrounded by horizon
Time stretches out for a newborn sun to shine on and
on

And on and on and on and on and on

When we begin
Our hope is all we have to carry us
You feel the weight up against you
Now you're pushing it

I've never been so close
I've never felt so unafraid
I've never been so close
I've never felt so unafraid

I've never been so close
I've never felt so unafraid
I've never been so close
I've never felt so, felt so, felt so unafraid
