

Ari Herstand

"Chedder Chatter"

Visit "Chedder Chatter" on MotoLyrics.com

What should I do when the words don't want to come out?

How many ways can I say, "I love you?"

When is the right time to put up a stop sign

What is the answer to, cheddar chatter

Finally home after a long hard day

Take off my shoes flick on the TV

I call you up just to tell you I'm crazy for you

Not knowing it would be hours before you believed me

What's up? Baby lets talk about something new (pick any subject)

Something to change our point of view

Cause like some candy cane, I'm keeping your mouth entertained

And racking my brain for cheddar chatter

What should I do when the words don't want to come out?

How many ways can I say, "I love you?"

When is the right time to put up a stop sign

What is the answer to, cheddar chatter

I give it an hour, maybe two

Before my legs start to quiver and shake

There ain't no doubt about our love baby

So can we quit being cheesy for goodness sake

What's up? Baby lets talk about something new (pick any subject)

Something to change our point of view

Cause like some candy cane, I'm keeping your mouth entertained

And racking my brain for cheddar chatter

Visit Ari Herstand page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.