When you come back to your senses
Your heart overcomes your pride
I'll be here with an open mind
Here to break your fall from misery

You expect me to love just like you
Even though you won't admit that
You sink your teeth into something
You figure it'll come biting back

But I am not made to tag along
When everything seems wrong
When everything seems wrong
And I still can breath when you are gone, love
When everything seems wrong
When everything seems wrong to you

I don't know if we'd be better off
Living our own separate lives
Talking every once or twice
Whenever we need each other

I can't picture another arm around you, love
Wonder how I would react
Would I scream and shout in anger?
Or would I maintain some tact, baby?

But I am not made to tag along, no
When everything seems wrong
When everything seems wrong
Yeah, I still can breathe when you are gone, my love
When everything seems wrong
When everything seems wrong to you

You know that you're my best friend
That kind of love will never run out
You know more about me than I know
Things I'd never dream of showing
But I can't change this way I'm feeling
And I'm not asking for miles of room
Just a little time to fill my tank up

Before I run on back to you

But I am not made to tag along, no
When everything seems wrong
When everything seems wrong
Yeah, I still can breathe when you are gone, my love
When everything, when everything
When everything seems wrong to you

Honey where do I belong
When everything seems wrong to you?
To you, to you, oh, to you, wrong

Honey when you come back to your senses
Honey when will you come back to your senses?
