I'm tired to be alone
A king without a land
Surrounded by all wickedness men do
Since the beginning of time
All evil is my fault
And you keep to come here
There's nothing I can do

I'm tired to be the one
The keeper of the keys
The witness of your cruelty and disgrace
I will change heaven for hell
I will free all of you
Now it's just up to you
To stay or go away

Morningstar Fallen Angel
No one will trade his place with you

Morningstar Fallen Angel
Not even gods are brave enough
To watch the borders of your kingdom

I'm going to give it up
I'm going to walk away
I'm going to leave this emptiness behind
I'm not the guardian no more
Your souls belong to you
And whose side you are on
It's your decision

Morningstar Fallen Angel
No one will trade his place with you

Morningstar Fallen Angel
Not even gods are brave enough
To watch the borders of your kingdom
