For my own
I can see the past won't come back
I can see that things are changing suddenly
For my own
I wish that time wasn't irrelevant
And all this pain was self evident
I wish that I could fly
For my own
Mercy has a name
The name is Tiffanie
And all of my needs comes from me
If there is anyone who can relate to me
You should know that I have a destiny
Not singing
I wish that my best friend
Could've stayed but now he's gone
Never gonna see him again
But the Lord has a blessing for everyone
Everyone can shine again
No matter what we're going through
For my own I can be anything
For my own I see the invisible
For my own I can feel the intangible
For my own I do the impossible
For my own I can heal the world with a song
For my own I dream the dreams that hasn't came true
If only that kind of power could be born within
I thank the Lord for holdin on
Only you can stay by my side
No matter what comes along I'll stay with you
Though you're not here with me
I'm sure that you're keeping me
Oh my will's with you
For my own I will stay on the side
For my own I will not cry for you anymore
For my own I must let go of your love
For my own I will let it fly freely
That doesn't mean I don't love you anymore
That just means that I have got to give it up
There's nobody like you, no there's no one new
I'll pray that the Lord will keep you too
