

Young Money

"97' Blazer"

Visit "97' Blazer" on MotoLyrics.com

We buried you in the Power Ranger suit
That we gave you for Halloween
And I can't repress to say
That you're the coolest girl that I've ever seen

Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?
Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?

You father's gone and you're mother's a wreck
And everybody misses you
And your brother's off to college
And your best friend doesn't have a clue

I remember sitting in the car
You were seated in the back
And I didn't realize
That we were heading towards a Mack

Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?
Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?
Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?
Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?

Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?
Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?
Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?
Where did all the good people go
When they buried you?

