

Young Paul

"This Means Anything"

Visit "This Means Anything" on MotoLyrics.com

THIS MEANS ANYTHING

All of the warnings you gave I ignored and I took all the gibes as if asking for more.

"I'll be with you again", words without credence, oh.

The twist in your answer evades every question.
Reaction belies everything that you mention.

"I'll be with you again", words without credence, oh.

I choke in the air
and it catches and burns my eyes.
Queue those tears in my eyes.

"I'll be with you again", words without credence, oh.

Call me your lover but I made the first move.
Say that I'm special but when do you prove it to me.

"I'll be with you again", words without credence, oh.

Those statements are empty and hollow
and they don't feed the hunger inside.
See those tears in my eyes.

Words without credence mean anything
so maybe you should be told it's for real,
it's the end of our time,
it's the end of our time.

"I'll be with you again", words without credence.
"I'll be with you again", words without credence.
"I'll be with you again", words without credence.
"I'll be with you again", words without credence.
"I'll be with you again", words without credence.

- Paul Young & Ian Kewley

