Suddenly, your face came into my mind
Suddenly, I thought of you
So I took out the deeply buried memories from my heart once again

For some reason, tonight,
It feels like I would be standing where you once were
The promises we made together are still so clear to me

Why can't I forget you?
I'm only hurting like a fool
Why won't my heart listen to me?
I try to forget and forget and force myself to laugh

Why can't I forget you?
Why do I have to hurt like a fool?
It's nothing, it's nothing
I'm sorry for being like this by myself
I just thought of you suddenly

Are you doing well?
After you have left me?
Fine, I will erase you
Although my heart keeps searching for you

Why can't I forget you?
I'm only hurting like a fool
Why won't my heart listen to me?
I try to forget and forget and force myself to laugh

Why can't I forget you?
Why do I have to hurt like a fool?
It's nothing, it's nothing
I'm sorry for being like this by myself
I just thought of you suddenly

Now I shouldn't look for you, who has gone far away

Even if my heart crumbles and falls, I hope you're happy
Even if my heart ever looks for you
And calls out your name, my love

Why can't I forget you?
I'm only hurting like a fool
Why won't my heart listen to me?
I try to forget and forget and force myself to laugh

Why can't I forget you?
Why do I have to hurt like a fool?
It's nothing, it's nothing
I'm sorry for being like this by myself
I just thought of you suddenly
