Tell me in the morning, cuz I won't recall Spinning like a carousel Don't want nobody to interfere, I'd be happy underneath this shell
In the middle of the night, I'm dreaming of her
And chasing down a miracle
I am feeling alright, just dreaming of her and chasing down a miracle

You know in the morning the sky will fall, I will give her my farewell
But all I want to do is stay right here and not move until I feel compelled
In the middle of the night, I'm dreaming of her
And chasing down a miracle
I am feeling alright, just dreaming of her and chasing
down a miracle
I'll be chasing down a miracle.

Let the moon keep shining down, let it cool my fiery sky I've no interested in waking up, give me one good reason why I would do anything to make it stall, in my slumber I'd forever dwell, Cuz in the morning she won't be near, just a headache like I've been through,
Well in the middle of the night, I'm dreaming of her
And chasing down a miracle.
I am feeling alright, just dreaming of her and chasing
down a miracle.
I'll be chasing down a miracle,
I'll be chasing down a miracle, yeah yeah.
