I am going inside
And right now you do not care
But that's where I will claim
You as my own
Like a missile launched
Like a vulture seeking dead
I will fly around
'Til I have flown into your heart

'Cause I wanna break your heart
I wanna be your muse
The one who can inspire like none before

There is more at stake
Than right now you comprehend
Like a burning flower
I will set fire to your heart

'Cause I wanna burn your heart
I wanna fan your flames
The inferno inspires like none before
