For a minute there I almost believed you
And I wanted to forgive you for everything you've done
And I could feel safe but miserable
In a familiar world of lies and misinformation
But then I remembered that everything you've ever said and everything you've ever done add up to more wrongs, than could ever make a right So don't try to talk to me
'cause a thousand Fuck You's would never be enough So I'm only gonna say this once Fuck You I'm never coming back
